WHO WE ARE

Contract management, made simple.

Clause360 is developed by RGV Technologies LLC, a technology company registered in Wyoming, USA, and built by people with long experience of commercial contracts, technology law, data protection and information security. Our aim is simple: give every business the control over its contracts that, until now, only large enterprises could afford.

The challenge

- Contracts scattered across email, shared drives and desktops
- Slow back-and-forth on versions and changes
- Approvals chased by phone and chat
- Renewals and notice periods missed
- Enterprise contract systems that cost tens of thousands before the first contract is signed

Our answer

- One place for every contract, from first draft to renewal
- Your own templates, with fields filled in automatically
- Negotiation by secure link, with tracked changes
- AI review and comparison with your standard terms

WHAT YOU GET

Features that work together.

Your own templates

Risks against your playbook, suggested redlines, summaries, and topic-by-topic comparison of their agreement with your template.

Negotiation without friction

Share by secure link; changes arrive as tracked changes. Accept everything and submit for approval in one click.

Approvals and e-signature

Approval rules by value and type; online signing by drawing, typing or uploading a signature, with a signing certificate.

Renewals and obligations

Key dates on the dashboard and in Outlook, Google or Apple Calendar, with reminders 90, 30 and 7 days before.

For companies and law firms

Counterparties and projects, or clients and matters with conflict checks, ethical walls and a client portal.
